

Norman™ fights women's heart disease by supporting the Grace McNamara Inc. Red Ball Charity Gala

Norman was proud to join Grace McNamara Inc. in the fight against women's heart disease as an exclusive five-heart sponsor of the Red Ball Charity Gala held during the recent International Window Coverings Expo in Washington D.C. The event benefited WomenHeart, a national coalition for early detection, accurate diagnosis and proper treatment of heart disease. Heart disease is the leading cause of death among American women, killing nearly 500,000 every year — more than eight times the number of breast cancer deaths.

Grace McNamara was inspired to organize the Red Ball through the loss of her mother Irene Wojski at the age of 75 one year ago. The evening was opened with a touching tribute by Irene's granddaughter, 18-year-old Ania McNamara, who expressed how seriously heart disease had affected her by ending her grandmother's life.

"We are so happy to be a part of this meaningful event," said George Sharpe, vice-president of marketing. We urge everyone, men and women alike, to make heart health a priority for them and their loved ones," he said.
